Please join us for this can’t-miss event of the summer at the Biltmore Estate in Asheville, NC.
DESCRIPTION

In its 65th season, the Southern Obstetric and Gynecologic Seminar is a three-day, educational event designed to address relevant and timely topics in women’s health for the busy provider. Distinguished lecturers and leading experts in the field of obstetrics and gynecology will present clinical best-practices and care recommendations that the provider can easily implement to improve patient care and outcomes. The content covered in this year’s conference was derived from assessing the information needs and educational gaps reported by Southern’s physician and advanced practice provider (APP) membership. Information will be delivered through a series of four lectures each day, case-studies, and question and answer sessions.

Accompanying the academic portion of the annual meeting, Southern’s members value the opportunity to interact socially with longstanding and new members. This year, Southern returns to the Biltmore Estate—George W. Vanderbilt’s summer house. Make plans to attend Wednesday evening’s Welcome Reception in The Loft at Cedric’s Tavern (located in Antler Hill Village®) and the Friday evening Membership Banquet in the Deerpark Lodge. New for 2019, Thursday afternoon will feature Vanderbilt Tasting and Production Tour (21+ only), as well as Length of Stay tickets that will grant you daily access to the Biltmore House for the duration of your stay for the price of a one-day admission ticket.

As always, Annual Meeting registration fees are determined by your membership status. You may register and pay both your annual meeting fee and membership dues online by clicking the Registration tab. Should you prefer, you can click the PDF brochure icon and print a hard copy registration form to register or pay dues via fax or mail.

Don’t delay! Renew your annual membership and register for this year’s meeting online or by mail today. More information on Southern Obstetric and Gynecologic Seminar can be found at www.southernobgynseminar.org.

AUDIENCE

This annual educational program is designed for Physicians, APPs, RNs, and others who are committed to advancing the quality of care for their female patients.

OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of this continuing education event, providers and clinicians will be able to:

• Review the definition and distinguish between the different categories of pregnancies of unknown location (PUL)
• Interpret ultrasound findings and laboratory results to categorize a PUL
• Discuss updated ACOG guidelines regarding carrier screening for prenatal patients and cancer screening
• Review the evidence regarding evaluation of stillbirth at the time of presentation
• Review the current available Emergency Contraceptive options
• Recognize special reproductive health needs of women veterans
• Review relevant health and human services issues at the NC General Assembly, including Medicaid expansion
• Discuss how to incorporate Centering into your practice
• Explain the current thoughts on the pathophysiology of interstitial cystitis
• Describe the basic neurologic control of urinary storage and voiding
• Recognize treatments for OAB beyond anticholinergics

Amy Boardman, MD, is an academic generalist and residency program director at Carolinas Medical Center/Atrium Health in Charlotte, NC. Her clinical and research interests include vulvovaginal disorders, ectopic pregnancy, and resident education. She is on faculty with the APGO Surgical Education Scholars program, which works on a national level to develop confident academic surgical educators who are prepared to implement surgical curricula at teaching institutions across the United States and Canada.

Michael Schurr, MD, is a general and critical care surgeon with Mission Hospital and is the Program Director for the General Surgery Residency Program. Dr. Schurr attended medical school at the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine and completed his residency in general surgery at the University of Wisconsin. He completed a fellowship in trauma and critical care at the University of Tennessee, Memphis. He has held numerous academic positions, at the University of Wisconsin from 1995–2011 and as Professor of Surgery at the University of Colorado from 2011–2014. Dr. Schurr has been an active clinician and teacher since he completed his fellowship, teaching students, residents, and fellows. He has published over 60 articles and has ongoing clinical trials underway at Mission Hospital.

Stephanie Ros, MD, MSCI, is a graduate of the Obstetrics and Gynecology residency program at Mountain Area Health Education Center (MAHEC). She completed a fellowship in Maternal-Fetal Medicine at the University of Utah. Currently, she is the residency program director and an assistant professor in MFM at the University of South Florida. Dr. Ros is the proud mom of two wonderful daughters.

Elizabeth Deans, MD, MPH, is Tarheel born and bred! She attended UNC–Chapel Hill for both undergraduate and medical school. During residency at UC San Diego, she was fortunate enough to care for women veterans and their families. After her Family Planning Fellowship at Emory, she combined her passions for family planning and caring for women veterans as the Director of Duke’s Family Planning Clinic and the Chief of Gynecology at the Durham VA Medical Center.

Steven Swift, MD, is a board-certified member of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists (ACOG) and board-certified in the sub-specialty of Female Pelvic Medicine and Reconstructive Surgery. He is an active member of the American Urogynecologic Society, International Urogynecologic Association, Association of Professors of Gynecology and Obstetrics, among others. He is the Editor in Chief of the International Urogynecology Journal and he is published extensively in peer-reviewed journals on various aspects of urinary incontinence and pelvic organ prolapse.

Rob Lamme, BA, is the president of Rob Lamme and Associates, a communications, government relations, and policy consulting company based in Raleigh, NC. Among other clients, Rob represents the North Carolina Ob/Gyn Society in the North Carolina General Assembly. He is also the former Government Relations Director for the North Carolina Department of Health and Human Services. He has more than 20 years experience in state policy work in the state of North Carolina.

Amanda Murphy, CNM, MSN, is a Certified Nurse-Midwife and cares for women of all ages in the office, specializing in labor support during childbirth. She is the Centering Pregnancy Director at MAHEC and delights in the bonds that form during that experience. Her belief is that healthcare is a partnership between provider and patient, and that the best outcomes start with a relationship. Amanda is also Director of Mothering Asheville, which is a Community Centered Health Home initiative. In addition to prenatal appointments and attending deliveries at Mission Hospital, she also provides well-woman gynecologic, preconception counseling, and contraceptive services.
